HI! FLY GUY and I SPY FLY GUY! Tedd lives with his wife, Carol, in Florida.

The youngest here at my house is on the verge of moving on from Fly Guy. This gives me mixed feelings. I am, of course, proud and pleased that she can pretty much read his regular adventures by herself (and pleased she likes to read them to me). On the other hand, I will kind of miss him when we're past that. The other good part is, that in this period anyway, this series of Fly Guy science books are still both a little beyond her reading level and yet still quite fun and interesting. Dinosaurs is no different, taking Buzz and Fly Guy to the Natural History museum to learn some basic, and cool, facts about dinosaurs and some of their contemporaries. The facts are pretty much right on scale for the general 4 - 6 year old and presented in a clear tone and voice. Fly Guy provides some visual humor here and there, but mostly stays out of the way - these are nonfiction books, not FG stories featuring dinosaurs (or space, or whathaveyou). Interesting and entertaining, I hope Fly Guy continues to have a long and illustrious career, even if we will likely be stepping on from it soon. Recommended.

Recommended by first grade teacher and keeps the attention of my new reader

My six year old loves the Fly Guy books. He also loves dinosaur's. This book combines both. He is thrilled!

My boys love Fly Guy and I like that these books use a character they already know and like to talk about a topic in an educational way. Fly Guy makes it fun. We also have the one on bats, space and insects! Go Fly Guy!

Kids loved it!

My little one enjoys reading thanks fly guy.

My son loves these books! They started his love for reading.

Purchased this as a gift for our 6yr old. He hasn't read the Presents series yet so he was overjoyed to get it.
